A Letter to Those Searching for Better Marriage

COUPLES bound by matrimony, It is most people's desire to maintain a happy marriage. However, whether they can attain this depends on themselves and other various factors. Therefore, many think a happy marriage is a challenge. I hope my sincere, yet harsh, words in this letter can help guide you.

Marriage is the combination of two people's energy fields. How the two people live together and tolerate each other will generate a report card for the Universe to evaluate. When you or your other half have opened up the secret codes of life then your relationship and marriage will become more stable, stronger, and filled with happiness. It is a lot faster if two people both work together, but even with just one person, a positive energy field can still have a positive affect on the entire relationship. With sincerity and determination to complete the task and practice daily you will be able to exchange the negative energy to positive energy, which affects your other half's energy field as well; eventually miracles will start to arise and change your lives. Try placing a copy of Super Life Secret Codes under yours and his pillow, if he gives consent.

When you can follow the book's instruction and practice with sincerity, allow the rich feeling to blend in with you life. Given time, the Universe will bless your hearts and fill your house and marriage with valuable positive energy. Then, your goal of a happy and complete marriage will be within reach.

Sincerely,

Great Sun
